Where are we going on the next family vacation? Who is unloading the dishwasher? How long are the kids allowed to stay awake? And how would one have to ask the world's most famous question to get an honest answer? All of this is negotiation.

Of course, we also talk about situations in work and everyday life that involve money! You will learn what we can take away from children, football players, and pets. We meet George Clooney for a negotiation and discover what cocktails and negotiation tricks have in common.
